FIFTY-SECOND YEAR No. 33.

CEDARVILLE, OHIO, FRIDAY, JULY 26, 1929

PRICE, $1.50 A YEAR

NEWS LETTER FROM STATE DEPARTMENTS

COLUMBUS, O.—Bids will be opened on Tuesday afternoon of this week by Highway Director Robert N. Waid for general construction and surface treating of 93 miles, the engineer's estimate for same being $2,108,715.01. Clinton county will have 11 miles of surface treating on the Georgetown-Wilmington road, to be completed by September 15. Preble county will have 7 1/2 miles, Genaga county 7.34 and Wood county 6.01. Successful bidders will be announced within the next few days.

Superintendent Thos. P. Kearns of the division of safety and hygiene of the Industrial Commission of Ohio, reports 158 fatalities for the month of May, the largest of any month since January 1, 1926. The large number of death claims filed was due in part to the recent catastrophe at the Cleveland Clinic, Cuyahoga county leading with 60, Hamilton 11 and Franklin 10. Five counties reported their first fatalities of the year. There are fifteen counties which have had no industrial fatalities the first five months of the year.

While the Capital City is rather quiet during the hot summer months and crowds in the up-town section are rather unusual yet several conventions held the past week brought a number of visitors to the city. Several other conventions are scheduled but the airport, Port Columbus, draws the tourists and seldom a day passes that hundreds fail to visit what is claimed to be one of the finest fields in the country. The fine drives, especially Riverside, the public parks and state institutions also attract and the Capitol building has its usual quota of daily visitors.

Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown has been busy in his office this week supervising the mailing out of sample ballots, instructions to voters and supplies for election officials preliminary to the primary election to be held Tuesday, August 13, at which time the polls will open as usual at 6:30 A. M. and close at 6:30 P. M., central standard time. The day between the hours of 12 o'clock noon, central standard time, and 5:30 o'clock P. M., is a legal part holiday.

The amendments to the Ohio Workmen's Compensation Act became effective Monday of this week. They provide a fine of $500 and imprisonment in jail or workhouse of not more than one year, for fraudulent representation to the department of Industrial Relations or to the Industrial Commission and also fine of $1,000 or imprisonment in the penitentiary not more than ten years, or both, for whoever fraudulently causes funds established by the state from which awards made by the Industrial Commission are paid.

Of the 200 bills enacted by the Eighty-eighth General Assembly, which convened January 7 and adjourned April 16, all will have become effective on Tuesday of next week when House Bills 142 and 32 complete the final list. The first concerns the guardianship of incompetent veterans and the other permits the recording and copying of papers and documents by photographic process by public officials.

New Speed Law Now In Force

A new state law governing speed of motor cars in municipalities and on the highways is now in effect. The limit has been fixed at 45 miles an hour on highways. Responsibility is placed on the motorist as to dangerous and reckless driving. In certain traffic 25 miles an hour may be regarded dangerous.

One other feature of the new law is the entire elimination of highway courts conducted by officials hungry for fees. The old law of a limit of 35 miles an hour observed by few motorists and in certain sections officials set up a speed trap to catch unsuspecting motorists.

Those who drive over route 42 to Cincinnati are taking chances in going through Sharrowville where a speed trap is set. Urbana has been receiving some bad advertising and at the request of businessmen and citizens the officials have backed up in their view. Motor clubs were routing people around Urbana.

The plaintiff claims he is entitled to dower interest in the real estate and asks that it be assigned to him.

INSURANCE IS TO BE REDUCED IN FAIRFIELD

With the completion of the waterworks system in Fairfield all insurance rates are to be reduced according to a report published last week in the Bath Township Herald.

The Herald quotes Harry S. Bagley, manager of the Aetna Insurance agency, that Fairfield will secure a handsome reduction on insurance rates when the plant is in full operation and the village receives its fire hose and nozzles. What Fairfield is promised is what Yellow Springs has experienced.

The Ohio Rate and Inspection Bureau, Columbus, has also announced reduced insurance rates where first class protection has been provided by municipalities. These rates go into effect over the state the first of the year.

Dayton papers state that property in that city that is within two miles of a fire station and one thousand feet of a fire plug will enjoy the rate reduction but property more than that distance will continue to carry the present rate.

Livestock Sale Breaks Record

GREENVILLE—All records for single sales of live stock were broken here today when Moses Hupman, a live stock dealer and feeder, sold to the Greenville Union Stockyards company 102 head of two-year-old grade Hereford steers for $21,800.

The cattle were purchased in Nebraska as calves, and have been fed on the Hupman farm, two miles east of this city, and are said to have been the finest bunch of cattle ever to pass through local hands.

The Hupman brothers have led this section of Ohio in the feeding of cattle and hogs for a number of years, and now have on hand a big herd of hogs, about ready for the market.

The cattle were sold by the purchasers to Swift and company, of Chicago, for their New York city trade.

Bargain Store Is Holding Big Sale

The Cedarville Bargain Store started a closing out sale last Saturday with a whiz-bang. Crowds visited the store and were liberal buyers of the many bargains throughout the day and thus far this week.

The sale is a bonafide one according to the announcement and there is yet a big stock in most every line carried from which to make selections. The sale is conducted by the Earl C. Andrews Sales Service, of Columbus. Proof of low prices prevailing to all by attending this sale.

County Receives $605 From Licenses

Greene County received $605.44 as its share of the recent state-wide distribution of motor transportation license fees, it is announced by County Auditor, F. H. Creswell.

Of this sum, $622.17 goes to the county and the remainder reverts to Xenia city and five villages, apportioned as follows: Xenia city, $45.25; Bellbrook, $3.61; Cedarville, $5.36; Fairfield, $1.53; Jamestown, $18.80 and Spring Valley, $7.72.

Concluded He Could Ride As Well As He Could Walk

A stranger touring west to form a football team in a western state reached the farm of Ed Little, near the railroad crossing on the Columbus pike east of town, where an automobile was parked in front of the house and the fellow, without any formality opened the door, started the car and was about to drive away when a little girl noticed the car and called out that someone was using his machine. The fellow was startled and Marshall McLean called out and discovered upon arriving at the house that something was lacking in the man. He had neither hat nor shoes.

He was brought down and Sheriff Tate notified the grand jury. Deputy Sheriff Sledge is awaiting examination. When asked why he took the car he explained that he might as well ride as walk. He also said he had abandoned a car several miles back because it would not run any longer. He had no money and did not appear to be of the criminal type.

Sheriff Tate later learned that the man was Cecil B. McCright, 29, who had escaped from the Columbus State Hospital. He is being held for the hospital authorities.

Barn Burns With Loss of $10,000

A blaze of undetermined origin destroyed a barn, livestock and valuable farm equipment at 11:30 P. M. Monday on the farm rented by M. K. Tavenner, Route 9, Springfield, on the Possum road, north of Clifton. Mr. Tavenner estimated his loss to be approximately $10,000. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

Mr. Tavenner and his family had retired for the night when he was awakened by a bright light shining in his room. He got up and saw the barn, which is a structure about 130 by 70 feet, a mass of flames. Realizing there was no chance of extinguishing the blaze, Mr. Tavenner made a dash for the door in an effort to get a calf and some of his equipment to safety but was driven back by the flames which had by this time enveloped the entire building.

He had to content himself with watching the flames destroy thousands of dollars worth of equipment, hay and grain. Mr. Tavenner did not appeal to the city fire department for aid as the blaze had gained too much headway when it was discovered. The barn is about 200 feet from the house the latter not being damaged.

The property destroyed in the fire included two automobiles, a calf, one mule, a corn planter, harrow, complete set of harness, 30 tons of hay, 100 bushels of oats and many other valuable articles.

This is the third fire Mr. Tavenner has experienced during the past five years.

The state fire marshal in all probability will be asked to investigate the cause of the blaze as rumors have arisen to the effect that the conflagration may have been the result of spite work. Last fall a number of Mr. Tavenner's hogs were stolen and he never traced the identity of the culprit.

Dog Races Started At Fairfield Thursday

After several formal and informal announcements the new dog race track opened last night at Fairfield. Like other dog racing plants over the state the new one at Fairfield has been the subject of much comment. Governor Cooper attempted to throttle gambling at all race tracks but met several stumbling blocks and finally announced that he was through and would not use state force to control such races.

The village of Fairfield has licensed the dog racing and will receive a fee of $250 for each night the track operates. The funds will be used to pay the debt on the new waterworks plant.

Twenty sportsmen over this section of Ohio have formed a partnership with a capital of $75,000. Each have invested from $1,000 to $10,000.

Following is a list of the twenty sportsmen who are promoting the dog track enterprise and the amount each has subscribed to finance the venture: H. W. Yendes, Dayton, $1,000; Charles W. Rawlings, Osborn, $1,000; George E. Kuntz, Dayton, $6,000; Steve Vargo, Dayton, $1,000; George W. Humphreys, Dayton, $1,000; L. E. Gough, Middletown, $3,500; Frank Schmitt, Miamisburg, $1,000; Orla Webb, Middletown, $1,000; Harry E. Barney, Dayton, $1,000; G. W. Heintz, Hamilton, $1,000; Charles R. Fay, Middletown, $10,000; A. W. Couch, Dayton, $5,700; Edward J. Gadker, Dayton, $1,000; A. M. Combs, Dayton, $1,800; C. A. Young, Springfield, $1,000; Earl Rittler, Covington, Ky., $1,000; George F. Baker, Dayton, $5,000; Carl P. Weber, Middletown, $7,000; C. G. Wantz, Fairfield, $4,900; and D. A. Reagan, Fairfield, $2,400.

COMMITTEE IS ENLARGED FOR WATERWORKS

The Waterworks Committee to campaign for a water supply system for the village held a meeting Monday evening in Community Hall at which time the proposition was discussed and action taken to enlarge the first committee, which had initiated the movement.

Business men and property owners are lending support to the movement in the belief that such a system is badly needed in the corporation as a protection of health, to bring about better fire protection and most of all to lower insurance here as has been done in other towns.

The organization is open to all business men and property owners and very encouraging reports have been received. The public is realizing that Cedarville to keep pace with other towns must adopt this progressive step.

In certain quarters a report has been circulated that if the town adopts waterworks private wells will be condemned. This report is without foundation and such an order has never been given in South Charleston, Yellow Springs, Fairfield, or even in Xenia, where they have had waterworks for more than a quarter of a century.

The following have been added to the committee at this time with more to be announced later:

Gray McCampbell, A. E. Richards, H. H. Brown, C. H. Gordon, M. C. Nagley, R. C. Rittenour, Charles M. Spencer, Dr. C. M. Ritchie, Dr. W. R. McChesney, Dr. M. I. Marsh, John S. Harvey, Amos Frame, W. F. Townsley, C. H. Crouse, W. W. Trout, Wm. Marshall, Dr. O. P. Elias, and F. M. Gilliam.

The members announced on the first committee were:

W. W. Galloway, W. C. Iliff, S. C. Wright, G. A. Shoades, Ancil V. Wright, A. E. Huey, C. E. Masters, J. Lloyd Confar, Melvin McMillan, Charles E. Smith, G. H. Hartman, C. N. Stuckey, I. C. Davis, Wm. Conley and Karl Bull.

Wheat Crop Is Making Good Yield

It is said that Greene county is in practically the heart of the wheat region of the country for big yield this year and also for quality. Few crops are reported under thirty bushels per acre and a few around thirty-eight and forty. The Cedarville Farmer's Grain Company expects to handle sixty thousand bushels of wheat and McCampbell's Exchange is also getting its share of the wheat for shipment.

With a good wheat crop there is also one of the largest straw crops ever known in this vicinity. This will be of great advantage to the Hagar Straw Board & Paper Company that in years past has had to import much baled straw from adjoining counties.

CHURCHES PLANNING TO DEDICATE NEW MONEY

TAX AMENDMENT CAMPAIGN TO BE WARM

The campaign for a change in the Ohio taxation system through adoption of the proposed amendment to the constitution and provide for classification promises to be a rather warm affair before the November election.

Since Governor Vic Donahey has openly challenged the proponents of the amendment on the justness of the plan, we can look for some big field action from both sides.

Two years ago Donahey took a stand against a similar form of classification, but this year certain farm organization leaders are on the opposite side which will only add to the complexity of the situation.

As a result of the decision in a U. S. Court that will exempt National Banks in Ohio of paying certain tax on capital stock the state stands to lose several hundred thousand dollars in revenue directly and through the various taxing districts. How much this decision will influence voters to support the classification plan cannot be estimated this early in the campaign.

The law was a blunder on the part of the Ohio legislature as was pointed out at the time it was passed in that it was not in accord with the federal law governing national banks.

POSTOFFICE DEPARTMENT SHOWS BIG LOSS

Announcement of the big loss amounting to many millions in the operation of the postoffice department the past year, startled the present administration in Washington that had nothing to do with contracts or management.

When the late President Harding went into office one of the first things he did was to appoint a commission to investigate departments and report on efficiency rendered and costs. It so happens that Walter Brown, now postmaster general, was a member of the Harding committee that made the investigation and reported to President Harding. The report was sent to Congress for action but political pressure caused the recommendations to be smothered. The great fault of the Harding administration was the plunderbund that the then president had permitted to gather about him in government affairs.

President Hoover is forcing not only economy in departments but is going to hold down government costs. Postmaster General Brown is abolishing useless salaries jobs in his department that had become a nesting-place for Harry New's political associates. The New administration at times tried to show a paper profit for the P. O. department but investigation now proves that it was a false one and the deficit speaks for itself. New granted great sums as extra compensation to railroads for hauling mail. There is reason to believe Walter Brown can and will right things in the postoffice department.

SHOULD HIGHWAY CROSSES BE MOVED?

The toll of death by automobile accidents continues to mount each week not only for Ohio but other states as well. There seems to be a determination on the part of the motoring public to disregard all regulation laws as well as common sense in driving. As a result the account of the week-end trip accidents and fatalities grows.

What plan will check this ever increasing slaughter has not been presented the public if there is one. Responsibility rests largely on the individual motorist. The wonder is that not more are killed each week instead of a few number.

Automobiles go racing down the road at breakneck speed much the result of the campaign for speed on the part of the auto manufacturers. Speed has been stressed with each new model and the improved highways gives most drivers the fever to test the claims of the manufacturers.

Ohio some years ago adopted a plan of erecting a small cross at the roadside where a life was taken by a motor accident. Many were impressed with the idea and in those days drivers did not have the speed fever as today, or at least there were not so many speed bugs on the highways.

It has been announced that the crosses are to come down as a drive over the state reminded one of a trip through a graveyard. What reaction will come from this order one cannot predict but as the present day motorist travels it is not likely he would even see many of the crosses and of course would not be influenced by their presence and silent tribute that probably wreckless driving cost one life at that spot.

THE KAISER CAN GO HOME

The cables bring the interesting news that the former Kaiser is now legally free to return to Germany. They also furnish the information that he probably will not return, because the German people do not want him.

Immediately after the armistice, the war leaders of Britain and France talked quite a little about the necessity of personal vengeance against the Kaiser. It was reasonably plain that they were driven into such talk by political pressure at home, not sincerely desiring to follow a course which obviously carried the danger of making the Kaiser a martyr and a hero in the eyes of the German people.

Wiser counsels prevailed and Wilhelm was allowed to settle down at Doorn. Today he is certainly not a martyr and he scarcely carries the appearance of a hero, in Germany or abroad. Already he is on trial before the bar of history, which, after all, is a much more capable tribunal than any the Allies could have constituted. —Times-Star.

THE STORY OF EZEKIEL

LESSON TEXT—Ezekiel 3:4-11; 24:15-18.

GOLDEN TEXT—As I live, saith the Lord God, I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked, but that the wicked turn from his way and live. PRIMARY TOPIC—Ezekiel, a Messenger of God.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Ezekiel, a Messenger of God. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Frankness in Friendship. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—A Prophet-Pastor.

Ezekiel prophesied in the land of the captivity. The purpose of his ministry was threefold.

(1) To keep before the house of Israel that they were in captivity because of their sins (14:23). (2) To show that God is righteous in His visitation of judgment upon them (7:8, 9). (3) To sustain their faith by assuring them of their national restoration, the punishment of their enemies, and their final exaltation among the nations when Messiah should reign (34:11-31).

1. Ezekiel's Call (2:1, 2).

1. Command to stand up (v. 1).

He was given a vision of the Almighty God on His throne of glory (Ch. 1). The purpose of this vision was to give a definite grasp of the execution of the divine will through the powers and forces which God had created. Before this vision the prophet fell prostrate upon his face. When one sees the diversity and complexity of the agencies employed, including the animate and inanimate creation intelligently moving forward, under the direction of the Almighty, he will be ready to face any task regardless of its difficulty.

2. Filled with the Spirit (v. 2).

By the Spirit the divine energy entered him and enabled him to execute his commission.

II. Ezekiel's Commission (vv. 3-8).

1. The moral condition of the people (vv. 3, 4).

(1) A rebellious nation (v. 3). This perhaps referred to their idolatrous practices.

(2) Impudent children (v. 4). Impudent means "hard of face."

It means the grossest perversity which caused them to stand up in the presence of the prophets of God without a sense of guilt.

2. The charge (v. 4).

He was to deliver God's message. It was to be, "Thus saith the Lord God."

3. The difficulty of his task (vv. 5-8).

The prophet was to deliver the message of God whether they would hear or forbear. He was to fearlessly execute his commission, though the attitude of the people be as "brimstone and scorpions."

A faithful minister's life and testimony will run counter to the world. (11 Tim. 3:12).

III. Ezekiel's Experimental Qualifications (23:3-10).

Before one can preach to others he must have a personal experience.

1. Eating the book (23:3-4).

This book contained God's words up on the stiff-necked and rebellious people. In order to speak God's threatenings effectively to others we must inwardly digest and appropriate them ourselves. The result of this eating was that Ezekiel was made "hard of face and forehead" to go against the people who were "hard of face and forehead."

2. Urged on by the Spirit (3:10-14).

In order to strengthen Ezekiel for his task, the wonderful symbolism of God's providential agencies which had been before him in chapter one was brought to his attention, assuring him that God would accompany him to his destination.

3. Entering into sympathy (v. 15).

In order to minister to a people one must show that the message is from the depth of the heart. Ezekiel mingled his tears with theirs.

IV. Ezekiel's Grave Responsibility (3:17-21).

Two things were required of him as a watchman over the flock.

1. To hear the Word at God's mouth (v. 17).

The source of his message was God's Word. This is true today.

2. To sound the warning (v. 17).

After he had heard God's message he was to speak it out; then his responsibility was discharged.

V. Ezekiel's Courage (24:15-18).

He was to be taught by a sorrowful experience. He was to turn his face from even natural desire. At the death of his wife he was forbidden to mourn. By this means God sought to impress upon Israel the seriousness of the situation.

The Sick Need the Physician

And it came to pass, as Jesus sat at meat in the house, behold, many publicans and sinners came and sat down with him and his disciples. And when the Pharisees saw it, they said unto his disciples, Why eateth your Master with publicans and sinners?

But when Jesus heard that, he said unto them, They that be whole need not a physician, but they that are sick. I am not come to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.—Matthew 10 to 15.

"HAD TO QUIT WORK; KONJOLA SET ME RIGHT"

Victim of Complications About To Abandon Hope — The New Medicine Was Found

MRS. CLEO ADAMS

"Ten years ago my trouble started with indigestion, and soon my kidneys and liver were all out of order," said Mrs. Cleo Adams, 866½ North High Street, Columbus, Ohio. "Then I became nervous, and soon was forced to quit work. Through the lack of sleep and nutrition, I became weak, run-down, tired out and discouraged."

"When I had finished the third bottle of Konjola, I was without a pain, my bowels were functioning as they should, digestion was restored, and my liver and kidney symptoms disappeared as if by magic. I had to quit work, but Konjola set me right, and I am back on the job again."

Konjola is sold in Cedarville, Ohio at Provant & Brown drug store and by all the best druggists throughout this entire section.

FELLOW CITIZENS JUST THINK

By a Tax Payer

That it is creditably asserted that Cedarville has no rival as a delightful community in which to dwell. Whether you consider the question from the material standpoint, the intellectual or the moral viewpoint, we are proud of our home town—"Cedarville."

That we have shipping and traveling facilities unsurpassed: more livestock shipped from Cedarville than any other station from Columbus to Cincinnati.

That the productive qualities of Greene County in the matter of farm products is not surpassed by any other county in the state of Ohio.

That our College, Paper Mill and Magnesia Plant bring to this town each year an aggregate of not less than a Quarter of a Million Dollars; thus employment is furnished to many desiring work and money is brought into circulation and taxes paid and a high standard of prosperity maintained.

That we have sustained from year-to-year by the people of the community a fine "Lyceum Course" at a reasonable price, bringing to our platform fine representatives of the speakers and musicians, that appear on the 4,000 Chautauqua and Lyceum platforms of our country.

That we have a fine school system, the grades and High school presided over by a corps of competent Christian teachers, fitting the coming generation for the most useful and successful lives.

That Cedarville has the high distinction of being a College town. Cedarville College with its fine record of achievement, its hundreds of Alumni, its representatives in all the noble callings of life, its Bible school, its beautiful buildings and fine Campus, all this and a great purpose to go forward in still greater achievements.

That we have splendid churches with faithful and consecrated Pastors, devoted and talented officers and teachers and a constant effort maintained to promote sobriety, morality and the highest type of Christian living the most important factor in the life of any community in any land.

Yes, do some real thinking! How much we have for which to be thankful and to put us under obligation to the Community of Cedarville our home-town. Think and plan to do your part in supporting our Community life, and in improving it in so far as we can. In union there is strength.

"In the past men have tried, in spite of difficulties, to preserve the values of civilization. Today there are in every community a few men who are able to pursue truth and to transmit to the future the best values received from a rich past." —Everett Dean Martin.

5,558 Celebrate At Close Of Projects
"Achievement Days" Are Like Commencement To Rural Women Of Ohio

In celebrating their achievement in completing work in different educational projects, 5,558 women and their relatives and friends gathered in 39 county-wide meetings during the spring and early summer, in 39 Ohio counties.

"Achievement meetings" are the commencement exercises of the work done by rural women with the cooperation of the home demonstration agents of the various counties, and the home demonstration specialists in the agricultural extension service of the Ohio State University. The meetings are held when the year's program of work is completed in a county. The meetings themselves consist of entertainment, features, discussions, and summarizations of the work done.

The studies accomplished by the rural women, which led up to this year's series of achievement meetings, included clothing, nutrition, child care, home care of the sick, home furnishings and home management.

Brown Hay Better Than No Hay At All
Palatable To Livestock And Loses Little Value In Fermentation Process

"Brown hay" from alfalfa results when the alfalfa is put into the mow so green and tough that it heats and drives off the surplus water. At the same time it is discolored. During the process of fermentation the moisture driven off will condense on the top layer of hay and will spoil it as the top layer of silage is spoiled.

"The top of such a mow may steam for three weeks or more after the hay is put in," says Dr. C. J. Willard, of the crops department of the Ohio State University. "Below the spoiled top layer, if the hay has been properly stored, there will be no mold. This brown hay is very palatable to stock and while there is a certain amount of loss from the fermentation, it is not serious if the hay has not been badly discolored."

"When first-cutting alfalfa is nearly cured, but tough, and is likely to be ruined if not taken in, it is far better to take it in and make brown hay of it, than to leave it in the field to be damaged by rain. If put in this way, the hay should be exceptionally well stacked back into the mow, to break up the green bunches sometimes found. It should be packed and not left loose, unless there is space enough to spread a thin layer of the tough hay all over the mow. After fermentation starts, do not put other hay on top of it, or disturb it in any way. The use of salt on tough hay is often recommended and should be of value in reducing fermentation and mold."

State Makes Beauty Spots
Stake Around Your Trees

In Connecticut, where rivers and lakes are near by, shrubbery and trees have been removed to open a view. Several fine vistas which have been lost are now offered. The state is doing much planting of indigenous species. Dogwood and laurel, when removed to clear the view at a distant scene, are replanted elsewhere and small growths of natural shrubbery in which forest fires start easily have been transplanted to roadside gardens.

Providing Picnic Nooks
 The Connecticut highway department is encouraging family touring and picnics by creating wide spaces by the road for the parking of cars at a safe distance from the thoroughfare. In selecting picnic nooks the commissioners have been guided by the natural advantages. Where the trees provide ample shade and a spring bubbles up, the road is widened. Several cars may be driven into the cleared area where they will not be a hazard to other motorists.

Frightful Fire Wastes
 The importance of guarding against home fires is shown in estimates of a large insurance company. In the last ten years, according to this firm, enough money has been wasted, on the average, in fire losses to pay for 101,000 one-family houses at the cost of construction prevailing in 1926, or to pay for all the new residences erected in 56 principal cities of the United States the same year.

Correct Ideas in Painting
Garden Individuality

Large houses on small plots of ground are best painted in unobtrusive colors—that is to say, colors that lend themselves to their immediate surroundings. Blue-grays or gray-greens show off such houses to good advantage without making them appear too unwieldy for the site plot upon which they have been erected.

Build Well for Beauty
 Good a lasting construction is an essential quality of real beauty. Shoddiness and beauty are hard to conceive as existing together in the same creation, so when we build we must think of economy, construction and beauty in the closest relationship.

Work for Civic Leaders
 Most of the improvement work of a town is done by a dozen men whom the other citizens back up.—Exchange.

Agriculture's Importance

Those engaged in agriculture and the business of agriculture purchase about one-tenth of the country's manufactured products.

Community Building
Wise Owner Makes His Garden Part of Home

If you really use and enjoy your garden, you must make it look as though it were a part of your home. If the only way you have of getting to it is through the kitchen and the back porch where only the garbage can or ice box or cleaning bucket live, your garden will not look that way. The transition from house to garden must be gradual and attractive, if the house and garden are to seem like one unit.

If it is possible to enter the garden from a living-room or dining-room, so much the better. In that case, even if the garden is tiny, it is well to make a small brick platform or an informal flagging around the steps. If the house is low below the doorway, a prettier effect is gained by making a small terrace up to the steps, than by having a long flight of steps. One step or two down to the terrace will be prettier than six steps down to a lawn. On this flagstone or brick platform you can put comfortable porch furniture, and perhaps a bright awning or lawn parasol. Here you can have a place more outdoors than a regular porch, and yet as comfortable. It will be dry to your feet, yet there will be comfortable chairs to sit in. The older members of any family will enjoy it more than sitting in the real garden.

Model Street Incentive to Better Conditions

In Philadelphia, according to reports, is a mile of model streets—which means a mile of clean streets. The idea of clearing and maintaining this limited street area absolutely free of litter and the hundreds of other objects and features that mar attractiveness was carried out a short time ago. So impressive were the results that now schools, women's groups and other organizations in various parts of that city are out for more model streets. Eventually, a mile of streets from the standpoint of cleanliness may be the outcome. Who knows?

Certainly the movement is altogether wholesome and encouraging. The idea may prove contagious. Probably a city once clean and attractive could be kept in that condition. How refreshing it would be to have one genuine effort in that direction!—Kansas City Times.

Plea for City Beautiful

An appeal to householders to form themselves into "Neighborhood Beautification" groups was made recently by H. A. Harrington, Detroit board of commerce secretary.

"We are attempting to conduct a city-wide spring house-cleaning," said Harrington, who is in charge of the 1928 clean-up and paint-up campaign. "Under this plan, advocated by him, residents of each block would form an organization for the supervision of a thorough clean-up, not only of their own premises, but of adjacent alleys and vacant lots."

"It does little good to clean up occasional spots," he pointed out. "The impression which visitors away are molded by the general appearance of the city."

Stake Around Your Trees

Large trees or trees planted in exposed places should be staked. To prevent chafing, protect the tree with old rubber hose or with burlap, says the American Tree association of Washington which will send anyone tree-planting suggestions for the asking. A stake driven in the ground along side the tree with a rubber or burlap covered wire attached to the tree is a good support. Until the tree becomes firmly established see to it that the earth is closely packed about the trunk.

Outdoor Room

Let us think of a garden as an attractive outdoor room, rather than a place of orderly beds, where flowers or other plants are grown. No matter what type of design or what type of furnishings—if one may speak of the elements of a garden as furnishings—a garden usually does not offer its full complement of enjoyment without that desirable feeling of intimacy and privacy.

Trees and City Beautiful

Worth of trees to a city is by no means confined to beauty, says the American Tree association of Washington, which will send you tree-planting suggestions for the asking. "The city of fine shade trees is the City Beautiful as well as the City Beautiful."

SAWS
By Viola Brothers Shore

FOR THE GOOSE—
LOVE should be tenderer at parting than at meeting. That's how you can tell the genuine article.

No punishment hurts as much as the severity of a gentle mother. Some women's idea of being pure is being easy shocked. The purest woman know is a doctor that nothing on earth could shock.

FOR THE GANDER—
There's two kinds of women in the world—the ones that likes to run you and the ones that likes to be run. And all you gotta do is find out which is which.

You seldom find a man that claims he gave less than he did.

Pourin' fast don't get the most water in your bottle.

Movement for General Roadside Beauty Grows

Roadside beautification has become general throughout the United States. In this new era a road becomes a work of art. There is a "Statewide Beautification Club" in Florida; an association, "Friends of Our Native Landscape," in Wisconsin; the "Colorado Historical society" in Colorado, and various organizations from garden clubs to chambers of commerce in Arkansas, Alabama, West Virginia, Kentucky, North and South Carolina, and Virginia. California now has 600 miles of trees planted along highways; Oklahoma is planting highway trees steadily; Delaware has many of its highways landscaped. Arkansas calls systematic beautification "a worthwhile investment of public funds"; Michigan planted 140,000 pine seedlings along highways in 1928; Indiana 10,000 small evergreen trees, and Massachusetts more than 20,000 trees planted on highways in the past 22 years. State after state may be cited, with mention of Missouri's new landscape architect for its roadways, Pennsylvania's forestry unit, and Connecticut's landscape division.
